Are our tests more broad or specific?
Our tests were more broad on some questions and yet more specific on others. We saw others traversed more layers in the web pages in their specific tests.

1. Pros
   a. Very specific data
   b. Easy to pinpoint what is being tested
2. Cons
   a. May miss major QA aspects when focused on just one piece
   b. Not big picture

Pros and Cons of broad test types?
1. Pros
   a. Capture large data
   b. Keep the bigger picture in mind
2. Cons
   a. Miss finer details in tests
   b. Experience difficulty specifying desired results from tests
